Zoe Foster's new book Air Kisses is a Devil Wears Prada-style expose of the magazine industry. Picture: CHRIS PAVLICH

Beauty queen's inside tale is a devil in disguise

She has more make-up than she knows what to do with, dates one of rugby league's hottest guys, and has just finished her first book.

Life is sweet for Sydney beauty queen Zoe Foster.

Drawing on experiences as former beauty director for Harpers Bazaar, Foster penned Air Kisses which follows the privileged life of a beauty mag hag in a Devil Wears Prada-style expose.

"Fashion has been written about but no one has done beauty," she said.

"I have a lot anecdotes based on what we do."

This includes trips to the "goo room" (aka freebie closet).

Her main character is unlucky in love with a media personality, but Foster said he's not based on boyfriend, Souths star Craig Wing.

Air Kisses is in stores today.
